

Anxin-China Provides Solutions for Liuyang City to Prevent Fireworks Explosion

On the afternoon of Oct. 14th, a fireworks plant's explosion occurred in LiuYang city, Hunan Province, with 4 dead, 1 injured, reported the Propaganda Department of Changsha Municipal Committee. Specifically, this accident happened in the assembly shop of a fireworks production company, which also made a wild fire. The local government appointed related security departments to reach the accident site to implement urgent rescue immediately.

Liuyang city, is rewarded as “the hometown of fireworks” . Now, the fireworks industry constitutes 8.6% of Liuyang city’ s annual GDP, and provides 300 thousand job opportunities with issuing social salaries totally at 3.6 billion RMB every year. Thus, it has become the mainstay and pillar industry for Liuyang’ s economy development, as there are a few thousand fireworks production enterprises. Whereas, it is a puzzle that those highly-dangerous chemical production corporations still apply the old surveillance model——through monitoring personnel check those companies’ safety production equipments as well as their production operations in the security surveillance points ,which might lead to a series of potential risks. Herein, Anxin-China has thought about this issue in advance, and developed the ISD system successfully. Anxin-China’ s ISD system, as the world’ s intelligent surveillance and pre-alerting system, can effectively wipe out the drawbacks and potential risks of artificial supervision. It’ s obviously noted that ISD system can set a series of analysis rules beforehand, and send alarms as soon as the violations happened, for instance, the exceeding of toxic gas, rule-breaking operations and et al.

Leaders from the Liuyang City Administration of Work Safety has already spoken highly of Anxin-China’s ISD system, and stated that it would be really great to cooperate with Anxin-China for a long term, so as to make contributions to the construction of “safe & smart city” in Liuyang.
