

HD Cameras from Anxin-China Passed the Governmental Inspection Successfully

Test report certificate A

(Shenzhen-August 19th, 2013) Shenzhen Hawell Future Technology Co., Ltd., one of Anxin-China' s subsidiaries, independently develops and manufactures HD gun camera series, including HW-Q2010HPCDW and HW-Q1307HPCDW, and HD dome camera series, including HW-C1307HIDD18 and HW-S2010HSDD20 , and all of them have successfully passed the inspection of the 1st Institution of Ministry of Public Security. Moreover, they have received the pattern testing report and 28181 platform detection report that were cooperatively awarded by State' s Security Defense and Alarm System Product Quality Supervision Inspection Center (Beijing)and Ministry of Public Security & Police Electronic Product Quality Testing Center.

In accordance with the State' s standards and corporate standards for safety production, this test respectively took 10 units from each model samples, and then tested their external view, resolution, signal to noise ratio, minimum illumination, stability and etc., which conformed to the authorized requirements and methods. As a result, all the above testing items were proved to be qualified.

