

ANXIN-CHINA Successfully Purchased Shenzhen Hawell Science Technology Co, Ltd.

January, 2012. Shenzhen City. ANXIN-CHINA successfully purchased Shenzhen Hawell Science Technology Co. Ltd, which was originally founded in 2003 and then became a well-known security product manufacturer. Hawell was majorly engaged in development, manufacturing and sales of products including DVR cards, DVR, CCD cameras and relevant accessories. Its products have been identified by some domestic and foreign certificate authorities.

Presently, Hawell has more than 200 staffs, 3 of them have doctor's degrees. It has several research bases in China, one production base in Shenzhen. Hawell insists on the principle of "professional, fast, reliable" in order to promote the customer service better. ANXIN-CHINA believes that it is beneficial to transfer Hawell's face & scene recognition technology to the hardware equipments of ANXIN-CHINA so as to bring many more positive economic effects for ANXIN-CHINA, who can also keep its products in the frontline status.

More specific information you may refer to:

<http://www.anxin-china.com.hk/home/media/press/P120220.pdf>