

State Ministry of Industry & Information Technology Declared the Guiding Opinions on Security Industry Development

[No.338, 2012]

August, 2012. Beijing. The state security industry aimed at providing the practical professional technologies&products& service for the public safety fields including the security production, disaster reduction, emergency rescue and etc. With those guiding opinions from the national government, the leading corporations in the security production field should strictly conform to the guiding ideology, and bring out the right development goals and plans so as to promote the security industry development as a whole. Moreover, professional technical development and innovation, and perfect security system service mechanism should also be combined to put into the practice with multiple-channel input and strengthened organizational coordination.

More specific information you may refer to:

<http://www.anxin-china.com.hk/home/media/press/2012081701.pdf>