

Anxin-China Provides Best Solutions for Solving Hejiang Pollution

According to the news from xinhuanet on July 9th, journalists acknowledged from Guangxi Environmental Agency that the pollution source of Hejiang water case was confirmed to be led by Huiwei ore-dressing plant in the upper stream. Herein, the concentration of both Cadmium and Thallium is 5 or 6 times more than the standards, which is supposed to be solved by putting in chemical medicines.

At noon of July 8th, journalists came to visit a river in Qingmian Chun Village, Huangtian Town, Pinggui Management District, Hezhou City, while the excavators are working in the river damming to prevent the water flowing. One local resident said that this village was called the “muddy water river”.

Specifically, Guangxi Environmental Agency introduced that this river finally flowed into Hejiang. Herein, Huiwei ore-dressing plant let the waste water with Cadmium and Thallium directly flow into the river water, which led the high concentration of the polluted contaminants in the water.

Anyway, we can put a little attention to search a great number of news reports in the internet, whereas very few persons or nobody has ever considered any available measures to change this terrible situation to make our environment better on the earth. Accordingly, Anxin-China is a completely high-tech corporation with reputed social responsibility in the public security and industrial safety area. It has begun to put more focuses on the development of environmental ISD system, to apply the fabulous hardware equipments and iVAS technology to prevent the illegal corporate sewage disposal in the basis. Actually, it has achieved the positive effect to a certain degree.

However, as you know, environment is always first in the front of social development. Thus, Anxin-China takes the great responsibility to promote the environmental ISD system, with the final goal that the sole earth could be better and better!
