

ANXIN-CHINA iVas System Launch Conference was Successfully Held

On the afternoon of November, 18th, Shenzhen. iVAS system, an international top smart video analysis technology, was unveiled in ANXIN-CHINA technology launch conference held in High-tech Exhibition Center, Shenzhen, which opened a brand new chapter of the China video surveillance field development.

Specifically, this conference is jointly hosted by multiple urban government departments, moreover, nearly 200 participated persons includes several TV media and newspapers, like Shenzhen TV, Guangdong TV and Southern Metropolis Daily, and other friendly long-term partners. During the meeting, Gao Guohui, the general secretary of Shenzhen Hi-tech Exhibition and the vice secretary general of Shenzhen City government, spoke highly of iVAS system and presented his best wishes to the future development of ANXIN-CHINA. Then, Adiv Baruch, one Israeli expert, made a detailed introduction to the application principle & field and other user requirements of the smart video analysis technology, which was warmly received by all the participants. Finally, Liu Zhongkui, the CEO & chairman of ANXIN-CHINA, delivered a conclusion and thanked all guests' support and help, what's more, as the meeting closed, all persons also went to the exhibition place to see how the professional technicians displayed this advanced technology. Above all, this successful meeting signs that the birth of iVAS system helps China security industry to enter a new age and ANXIN-CHINA also had a bright future.

More information you may refer to :

<http://www.anxin-china.com.hk/home/media/press/20121118.pdf>