

State Administration of Work Safety Released the Twelfth Five-year Plan on Security Production Technology

November, 17th, 2011. Beijing City. State Administration of Work Safety released the twelfth five-year plan on security production technology, which highlighted that the focus should be put on science research, technological innovation, security equipment upgrading and etc, so as to promote the development of security production technology. This is a long-term task to benefit many fields including coal mine, dangerous chemicals, fireworks and firecrackers and so on. In the twelfth five-year plan, the production accidents should be reduced and prevented as many as possible, herein, which needed some leading corporations to provide technology supports in the long run.

More specific information you may refer to:

<http://www.anxin-china.com.hk/home/media/press/11121201.pdf>